

Helio Argos LLC Announces Appointment Of Caroline West To Board Of Directors

09.27.2021

MORRISTOWN, New Jersey, Sept. 27, 2021 – Helio Argos, a pioneer in compliance monitoring analytics software for the life sciences industry through its flagship product HelioPDR, today announced the appointment of Caroline West to the Helio Argos Board of Directors, effective September 13, 2021. Following the appointment of Ms. West, the Board will comprise 5 directors which includes Manny Tzavlakis, John Poulin, Marci Juneau, and Amy Pawloski.

“We are pleased to welcome Caroline to the Helio Argos Board of Directors,” said Manny Tzavlakis, chairman and chief executive officer of Helio Argos. “Caroline’s deep experience in life sciences compliance and her vision of the future of the sector will be invaluable to Helio Argos as we grow our business and pursue our mission to serve compliance teams in the life sciences space.”

Ms. West brings extensive compliance experience to the role, having built and led compliance programs for Global Pharmaceutical and Medtech companies over the last 25 years and led companies through investigations and government remediation efforts. She is passionate about developing programs and teams with deep understanding of business challenges and cross-functional skill sets supported by cutting edge technology.

“I’m excited about the Helio Argos vision of bringing next-generation technology to the compliance space in Life Sciences,” said Ms. West. “I feel like this is the next step for Life Sciences Compliance teams – automating the processes as much as possible to augment current practices. HelioPDR is the right product to take Compliance to new heights.”

Most recently she served as Global Chief Compliance Officer for Olympus Corporation, headquartered in Japan and while in that role was the recipient of the 2020 Advamed / Accenture Award for Leadership in the Advancement of Ethics in the Medical Device Industry. Prior to joining Olympus, she served as the Global Chief Compliance and Risk Officer for bio-pharmaceutical company Shire plc (now Takeda), and Vice President for Global Legal Compliance at Pharmaceutical company Aventis (previously Rhone-Poulenc Rorer, now Sanofi).

Ms. West has been a frequent speaker on compliance issues globally.

A graduate of Smith College and Penn State Dickinson School of Law, she currently chairs the Advisory Board for the Temple Law Center for Compliance and Ethics and has served on a number of non-profit boards including the Economy League of Greater Philadelphia and the Boys and Girls Club of Philadelphia.

About Helio Argos

Helio Argos is a leading compliance monitoring platform company that enables organizations to automate internal compliance processes. Helio Argos is the developer of HelioPDR, a proprietary automated compliance data analytics tool which leverages integrated data to identify and address compliance risk through Plan, Detect, and Respond. The tool allows for normalization of client data; automated monitoring to detect potential policy violations, outliers, and items of interest; creation of tickets and workflows so that users can collaboratively review and resolve issues; and visualization of data via dashboards.

HelioPDR has a unique module and component design allowing companies to select which promotional and non-promotional activities they would like to monitor and how they would like to monitor such activities with a seamless ability to scale their approach as they wish. HelioPDR leverages Artificial Intelligence techniques such as Natural Language Processing and Machine Learning to bring cutting-edge insights to life sciences compliance teams. Helio Argos' clients range from small to large pharmaceutical, biotech, specialty, and medical device companies.
